DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ferrari et al (EP 0015418) and Virno (EP 0118940) in combination, and further in view of Berge et al (J. Pharm. Sci. 1977).

The claims are drawn to L-(-)-moprolol L-(+)-tartrate salt, a method of making and a pharmaceutical composition comprising said salt.

Ferrari et al teach the preparation of the L-(+)-glutamate salt of (+)-moprolol and (-)-moprolol by reacting the respective moprolol with L-(+)-glutamic acid in the presence of a solvent, and then separation of the desired optical antipode (abstract; p 6-8). The reference also teaches that (-)-moprolol can be converted into an acceptable salt for therapeutic employment by treatment with organic or inorganic salts (p 8, lines 9-19).

Virno teaches L-(-)-moprolol hydrochloride in a composition useful for the treatment of glaucoma; the moprolol is present in the composition in an amount from 0.1 to 20% by weight (p 3, lines 10-12).

The difference between the combined reference teachings and the instant claims is that neither reference teaches the tartrate salt of L-(-)-moprolol; however, Berge et al teach many potentially useful pharmaceutically acceptable salts, such salts include the chloride and tartrate of the organic base (p 2, table 1). The instant claims are therefore rendered obvious in view of the combined reference teachings since it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to substitute from among the known pharmaceutically acceptable salts, which include chloride and glutamate, as well as tartrate, in order to obtain a composition having the most desirable pharmacological efficacy and/or ease of administration.
